

1 North Entrance

In the "Park Center" there are exhibitions about the irrigation facility (Iwaya-Iseki), which was built in the Yayoi period and discovered at the "Central Entrance" in 2003. There is also an exhibition on the history of the Kamitsu area, and an air traffic control radar on display.

2 "Oozora-no-Oka" (Big Sky Hill)

The "Dandan-Terrace" consists of 12 big stone steps covered with grass. Here you can have a picnic while enjoying a good view of passing airplanes. In addition there is a forest called "Kyoudo-no-Mori" with trees representing the regions that airplanes from Itami Airport fly to.

3 Bouken-no-Oka" (Adventure Hill)

In this large grassy slope area, different aged children can play together. Cube Adventure is an enormous three-dimensional net maze. There is also other playground equipment such as a roller slide, a jungle gym, and a sandbox.

"Itami Sky Park" was consolidated as a green space around Osaka International Airport for the purposes of aircraft noise mitigation and improvement of the local living environment by the Japanese government, Hyogo Prefecture and Itami City throughout the period 1993 to 2008. Some of the facilities within the park are also maintained through the support of Kansai Airports and New Kansai International Airport Company, Ltd.

Itami

The "Sky Way", looking over Osaka International Airport, is rich in nature.

4

"Tsutsuji no Oka" (Hill of Azaleas)

The flower of Itami City is the azalea. Four different kinds of azaleas were planted on this 2,500m² slope, making for a magnificent sight when the 14,000 flowers bloom every year.

5

Central Entrance

The "Sky Terrace" is a three-story observation deck in the center of the park and has good views of planes taking off and landing. You can check flight schedules in real-time on the big screen on the third floor. The irrigation facility (Iwaya-Iseki) was discovered here and now a replica demonstrating the discovery is on display.

6

"Hoshizora-no-Oka" (Hill of Starry Skies)

This sloping road is named "Starlight Path" and is quite spectacular at night-time. Eight astrological signs made from LED lights are hidden along the 130m road.

7

"Kusoku-no-Oka" (The Hill of Rest)

The "Itami Sign" is 5.4m long and 20.1m wide. This vivid design was inspired by the shape of the roofs of the sake breweries and traditional town houses of old Itami, and is a symbol of our city's tradition and history as the birthplace of seishu (clear sake).

8

"Tsubasa-no-Oka" (The Hill of Wings)

The parking area called the "Hilltop Car Park" is located on a hillside and is the best spot if you want to see the runway of Itami Airport from inside your car. The "Wing Deck" is about 61m wide and the scenic overlook is the same size as the main wings of a Boeing 777 airliner. There is also playground equipment for young children under the deck.

9

South Entrance

This area is the entrance of the "South Car Park" and the "Hilltop Car Park". "Sky Land HARADA" is located south of the South Entrance and has spacious ground and a grass space on its roof. You can enjoy different views of the airport from this site.
